

Bequest Wording for Gifts In a Will

Thank you so much for considering leaving a gift to Food For The Poor Canada in your will. Recognizing Food For The Poor Canada in your will is a thoughtful and simple way of leaving a lasting and impactful gift.

As a donor, you can leave a portion of your estate, securities, and/or cash gifts. Leaving a gift in your will guarantees that your estate receives a charitable tax receipt that can reduce or even remove estate taxes. Leaving a gift in a will gives donors the power to their families or loved ones by starting a named endowment fund.

Leaving a gift in your will to Food For The Poor Canada is easy. It is advised that you consult your family, with legal counsel, as well as Food For The Poor Canada staff to ensure clarity. Below are some suggested wordings to include Food For The Poor Canada in your will.

Residuary Bequest

"My estate trustees shall pay _____ (all or %) of the residue of the estate to Food For The Poor of Canada Inc., for the purpose of assisting FFPC's mission in developing and maintaining sustainable communities in the Caribbean and Latin America."

Legacy Bequest

"My estate trustee shall pay the sum of $_____ or transfer assets with an equal value to Food For The Poor of Canada Inc., for the purpose of assisting in FFPC's mission of developing and maintaining sustainable communities in the Caribbean and Latin America."

Legal Name

The name you should include in your will to make a bequest is "Food For The Poor of Canada Inc."

CRA Charitable Business Number: 890759970RR0001

(Disclaimer: The information above is for general information and should not be taken as legal or professional advice. The information should not be used without reviewing it with your own legal counsel or professional advisors to determine if it is appropriate for your estate planning state of affairs.)

Contact

Samantha Mahfood
Executive Director
Food For The Poor Canada
164 Melrose Avenue
Toronto, ON
M5M 1Y7
Email: [info@foodforthe poor.ca](mailto:info@foodforthe poor.ca)
Phone Number: 647-350-7269